

Inspirational Leadership

Presented by Ben Walden (director of Contender Charlie)

Monday 25 March

NSPCC National Training Centre, LE4 1EZ

£50 per delegate

This course is a must for any leader or aspiring leader in education.

LESSONS FROM SHAKESPEARE'S HENRY V

Participants will be introduced to the story of Shakespeare's most inspired and inspiring leader, Henry V. Then they will choose the leadership challenges they wish to explore.

Ben Walden uses mythodrama, a unique form of experiential learning that allows participants to "act in" desired behaviours and attributes. He employs a powerful combination of theatre practice, psychology, mythology and organisational development.

It provides inspiration and learning for lasting change.

The course is a full day and includes refreshments and lunch.

Places are limited so book now to avoid disappointment.

To book your place please email Samantha Maher – smaher@launde.leics.sch.uk

Please note – for delegates already enrolled on the Leadership for All programme this CPD event is included so no booking required.